NEW YORK, April 15.-After yestery's furious speculation in stocks a ment to take profits was indicated today and it developed accordingly. es ended generally lower than last ght and the transcontinental group and tocks which have moved in sympathy Ith that group are not the least sufers, notwithstanding the buoyant upoot in the first hour, St. Paul alone of group reserving a meagre gain on the after having been at one time more the group reserving a meagre gain on the day after having been at one time more than two points up.

-Union Pacific, New York Central and Illinois Central were also lifted a point in the early market but closed at net losses of over a point for the two first named and two and a haif for the last. In the curb market Northern Securities itself was rushed up to 185%, but fell back at the last to 181%. The whole market centered around these movements and was not in any degree responsible to any of the new developments.

A denial by the head of the Great Northern and of the Northern Securities companies of yesterday's rumors of a stock dividend by the former company had no influence in deterring the continuance of the rush to buy the stocks concerned at first, nor did the news favorable to values serve to hold the later market. The trading represented purely an episade in the progress of an unrestrained speculation.

The material disposition to diminish outstanding contracts at the close of the week probably was emphasized by the possibility of a haval engagement in the East over the Sunday Interval.

The money market was nominal, as is usual on a Saturday, but foreign exchange moved up several points.

Speculative sentiment in stocks has shown some disquistude at times during the week, but the power of resistance domenstrated by prices to the disturbing influence has effectually neutralized the effect and has been a main influence in prompting the renewed advance. Buying back of stocks by operators who sold short early in the week during the prevalent doubts over the market has been a factor in the recovery.

The prosperous condition of business and industry in all lines has been the potent underlying support of the market But a revival of force in the rumors and mysterious intimations of important developments to come, has characterized the restored demand for stocks as well. Belief in mergers and wholesale readjustment of the railroad map of the country has awakened again as prices mounted

The displacement from the directorate the Northern Securities company of the Northern Securities company of the head of the Union Pacific company as a shock to the speculative confidence gendered by the constant rumors of the harmonious plants for new projects intly contemplated by the two parties the old dispute in the Northern Securities company.

The open market for bonds has been uset, but large new issues have been addity placed both here and abroad. United States bonds were all anchanged realt on the week.

The Financier says:
Last week's statement of the New York associated banks was favorable. It not only reported a small gain in surplus reserve, but an important increase in cash. The gain in the latter was $3,500,00 or about one million greater than that which was estimated upon the basis of the traceable movements of money during the week. This difference may be accounted for by the fact that some of the large banks surrendered about this sum of public finds in anticipation of the maturity of the treasury cash deposited.
The bones were increased $5,571,500, reflecting augmented abock exchange borrowing as the result of the buoyant seculation during the greater part of the week. This increase in man, it may be noted, reduced the not loss, through confraction of this, to $5,000.

CHICAGO, April 15—Liquidation of May wheat had a degressing influence today on the wheat market in general. Damage reports from Nebruska, however, had a counterbalancing effect, causing July wheat to close with a gain of be. May wheat to close with a gain of be. May wheat is down be. Corn shows a loss of 5c and provisions 21c to 75c.

Natwithstanding a sharp decline at Liverpool, due to predictions of a liberal increase in the world's shipments, the wheat market here opened firm. Initial quotations of July were up be to be, at 875c to 8c. May was up 5c to 15c, at 875c to 8c. May was up 5c to 15c, at 875c to 8c. May was up 5c to 15c, at 875c to 8c. May was up 5c to 15c, at 875c to 8c. May was due to information from Minneapolis that May wheat there was up over 1c on the curb.

In the Northwest snow was reported in many sections. Sentiment soon became bearish, however, on selling of May by houses supposed to be acting for a Wall street coterl. A prominent long here was also credited with selling May. Within a short time the price of May had descended to 51.5. The break in May had a weakening influence on the more distant futures. July gradually declined to 875c. An increase in primary receipts tended also to create bearish sentiment. Later, however, future deliveries became quite firm on covering by shorts.

Part of the buying resulted from a few additional reports of damage to the crop in Nebrasks. Another factor was a forecast of extreme coid weather. The demand was sufficient to force July up to 805,0884c. The May delivery, however, was inclined to drag under persistent selling by influential traders. At the close July sold at 875c. May closed at $1142.

T. A. McIntyre & Co., New York, say: "The market has received its greatest impetus during the past few days from the bull movement in Union Facific and Northern Securities, which is explained by the semi-official announcement of the proposed doubling of the preferred stock of the Great Northern Sompany in connection with a scheme to form a new corporation after the split-up of the Northern Securities company, by which the ownership and development of the successive properties now controlled by the Great Northern will be taken over by a new company.

Northern will be taken over by a new company."

Logan & Bryan, New York, say "In early dealings the snap of yesterday continued and, up to the appearance of the bank statement, the market showed an advancing tendency. The statement was somewhat less favorable than expected, in view of the large increase in beans. This and a desire to take profits pending the holiday were undenditedly respondible for the easing off in prices. The advance this week has been altogether on old rumors of combinations which still tack authentic construction. Otherwise nothing new has trained that would in any way add materially to the intrinsic values of properties in general."
